COSTA NAVARINO

Authentic art objects, inspired by the history and cultural heritage of the Messinian region.

Art objects

Messinia's rich heritage shaped by 4,500 years of history is the inspiration for the art objects and toys of our collection.

Navarino Icons Palace Puzzle

The theme of this puzzle has been inspired, influenced and adapted by Mycenaean wall paintings dating mainly to 1,250-1,200 BC. The 28 piece puzzle comes in a carton box depicting the illustration and decorated with Costa Navarino insignia.

Navarino Paper Craft Ancient Figurines

Inspired by artifacts found during excavations in Messinia, these 3D paper figurines are quick and easy to create without scissors or glue. They make novel, colorful decorations and are a fun way to acquaint children with the rich world of ancient Greek culture.

Navarino Icons Fortune Cubes Game

Cubes played an important role in the art of prediction. Navarino Icons cubes are marked with symbols inspired by Mycenaean culture and are related to family, love, power, wealth, luck, wisdom & conflict. The game comes with instructions.

Navarino Icons Ceramic Dice

Games with dice were played since ancient times. According to Greek mythology the Homeric hero Palamides, was the inventor of the games with dice during the Trojan War. Inspired by dice excavated in the 7th century BC, four dice decorated with Mycenaean era colors, are placed in a square carton box.

Navarino Icons Ceramic Doll Figurine

The creation of the Navarino Ceramic Doll Figurine has been influenced by similar objects excavated in several sites in the Peloponnese. For a Mycenaean child the doll was a beloved everyday game.

Navarino Icons Ceramic Sandal

Sandals, derived from the ancient Greek sandalon, have been worn in Messinia since antiquity. The design of this handcrafted ceramic sandal was inspired by an intriguing artifact discovered by archaeologists, the straps and thongs represented by painted patterns and bands.

Navarino Icons Ceramic Horse Figurine

The love of animals in life and death was a very important aspect in the ancient Greek world. This ceramic horse figurine was inspired by grave findings of the Mycenaean era, in the Peloponnese.

Navarino Icons Ceramic Piglet Figurine

The love of animals in life and death was a very important aspect in the ancient Greek world. This ceramic piglet figurine was inspired by grave findings of the Mycenaean era, in the Peloponnese.

Navarino Icons Ceramic Ram Figurine

Navarino Icons Ceramic Deer Figurine

This ceramic animal figurine represents the deer which in Greek mythology, was sacred to Artemis, goddess of the hunt and wild animals.

Caretta caretta

The loggerhead sea turtle (Caretta caretta), a critically endangered species, nests at the beach of Romanos and other sandy stretches along the Messinian coast. At Costa Navarino, with the cooperation of Archelon, a special program using GPS technology, maps, monitors and protects loggerhead nests of this rare turtle so that the safe hatching of the eggs and the unhindered journey of the hatchlings to the sea is guaranteed.

Bird

This bird figure is based on a design found on an ancient clay vessel and represents the 271 different species, some very rare, which are either permanently residing at Gialova Lagoon or stop here during the migration period. Costa Navarino in cooperation with the Hellenic Ornithological Society, funds an extensive research program to protect and highlight the lagoon's avifauna.

African chameleon

Gialova Lagoon is the only place in Europe where the critically endangered African Chameleon is found, though it is still unknown how the reptile arrived in the region. According to one theory, it may have been brought from Egypt by the Romans, who are known to have kept chameleons as pets. Since 1998, the Hellenic Ornithological Society has been conducting in Gialova a program with the objective to monitor and protect the species.

Navarino Canvas Tote

The Navarino Canvas Tote was conceived as the ultimate shopping bag. Created with natural cotton fibers, it is very ample and very sturdy to hold daily groceries. Its distressed look provides a contemporary and fashionable edge, a bag to also carry to the beach, the gym, or to school.
